NUMBER 33.

FOREST SUPERVISOR MARSH PROMOTED TO DISTRICT OFFICE

Flagstaff is soon to lose one of her prominent citizens. R. E. Marsh, supervisor of the Coconino National Forest, has been informed of his transfer to the district office at Albuquerque, and will probably make the change about the last of July.

His new appointment bears the title of assistant district forester. He will be one of the four assistants of the district serving under District Forester Redding, in the district comprising Arizona and New Mexico. Mr. Marsh will be in charge of that branch of forest work known as "silviculture."

The transfer is a promotion that is certainly pleasing to Mr. Marsh's many friends in this territory, and is a recognition by the department of able handling during the last few years of the district that is in some ways regarded by those in the service as the most important district in the country. It is most certainly the biggest supervisor's job in the district. Mr. Marsh has been in the forest service for about ten years. For over four years he acted as acting supervisor and supervisor of the Carson Forest in New Mexico. Two years ago he was appointed supervisor of this forest.

TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF SCHULZ PASS LOOP

The move to improve the loop through Schulz Pass has gone splendidly, and by Sunday, day after tomorrow, the road will be in fine shape. It has been entirely passable for some time, but it will now be a pleasant evening's drive, and enjoyable.

Lee Vishno, with the help of County Engineer J. B. Wright, has been working on the road, going from west to east, for some time, and now has passed the divide. H. B. White and J. B. Francis gave much of their time to raising the necessary funds for 50 per cent of this work by voluntary contributions from auto owners, the county putting up the other half. The two gentlemen met with ready response and the money has been paid in and deposited with the county. The permanent organization of an auto club will be the next step toward keeping the adjacent roads in enjoyable condition.

An impromptu barbecue is planned for as soon as it can be arranged after the road work is completed. Every auto owner and citizen of Flagstaff will be invited. Every fellow will carry his own bread and extras and will be given a piece of the meat of the day which he will cook himself at a common fire. The top of the divide will be the place, where spring water can be had in abundance and plenty of shade and beauty spots in which to spend the hours.

STOCK SALE BIG SUCCESS

Faught & McMullen, stock and cattle men of Phoenix, concluded on Saturday their sale of horses, mules and cows with a big auction, disposing of every head of stock they had. It is not often that visiting stockmen are fortunate enough to make as good an impression on Coconino county residents as did these two gentlemen. Everyone who had dealings with them seems to have found them absolutely on the square, misrepresenting nothing, and offering buyers real value for the money. The auction on the last day of their stay was a pronounced success. Mr. McMullen, the auctioneer, knocking them down in a hurry. They plan to come to Flagstaff again in about a week or ten days. Several who purchased from them have already resold at a profit, and others have been offered a handsome net gain on their buys, one man, it is said, refusing a profit of $115.

MASONS TAKE NOTICE

The Masonic Third-Degree team of Prescott will confer the third degree of Masonry on one of our candidates on the evening of June 21, 1919, and will bring with them from Prescott, Brother Judge Smith, who will address us on some appropriate subject. After the ceremonies substantial refreshments will be served in the banquet room.

All visiting brethren are cordially invited to be with us on this happy occasion.

N. G. LAYTON,
Secretary.

BOOZE IN FRUIT BOX

County Attorney George Harben was notified yesterday afternoon of the finding of two quarts of whiskey in a crate of oranges in Williams. The box of fruit was consigned to a citizen of that town who recently died, and his daughter told a friend she had no use for the fruit, and if she (the friend) would pay the express charge, she might have the fruit. This was done; but on opening the crate the liquid contents were discovered, and the officials notified.

MR. FARMER!

Make your arrangements to be in Flagstaff all day on Saturday June 21. Splendid speakers will be present to speak on subjects of vital interest to every farmer. This important meeting will commence at 9:30 a. m. Help yourself by being present, and bring your neighbor.

Secretary Coconino County Farm Bureau.

DEPUTY ASSESSOR APHOLD IN CONTEMPT

Henry Aphold, deputy assessor, is a very versatile young man and seldom gets in bad; but at the present time he is up before Janitor Tom Phelan for contempt of court for his misconduct of the Mexican language. The other day a Mexican went to him to have his wants untangled from the Spanish and transmogrified into English, and Henry gave him a note to Clerk of the Superior Court Tom Rees, stating that the man wanted a hunting license. This was granted; but when he tried to get married on the strength of it, Father Vabre filed a demurrer and sent him back for regulation papers. Janitor Phelan fined Henry a large horse laugh just to prove his contempt.

BANDS, INDIANS, RACES, BIG SHOWS FOR FOURTH

Some spectacular automobile races are to be seen on the Fourth of July as a part of the Elks' celebration. Particularly the 50-mile race on the track is promising thrills and some extra fast time. About six entries are now counted on and it is reported that one car has negotiated the race track in 31 seconds, some fast driving.

Supt. Walter Runke, of the Indian Reservation, was in town yesterday and assured the committee that the Tuba City Indian band would be on hand both days of the big doings. Unusually fine Indian dancing is promised by C. A. Williamson, who will have charge of that part of the program. Navajos and Hopis will participate and they are looking forward to the time with eagerness. The races run by the Indians are always great stuff.

The erection of the dancing pavilion on the corner of Beaver street and Aspen avenue will be started in the next few days. The tent for the roof has been ordered, but the work of construction will not wait its arrival. The securing of an airplane for the celebration has not been clinched. Applicants for a ride in the clouds are not coming in very fast and the expense of the feature is so great that the Elks must have some income from it directly. But if it can be done in any way we'll have the airplane here.

Men have been at work on the race track for some time and it is in splendid shape. The public is urged not to drive across it, especially in rainy weather.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND FARMERS TO MEET

Mark this date on your calendar: June 21. On that day the Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce and the Coconino County Farm Bureau will hold two joint meetings—one at 9:30 in the morning, and one in the afternoon. They will be at the courthouse.

The meetings will be interesting and instructive. Addresses will be made by the following men, among others: Prof. E. P. Taylor, of the University of Arizona; Dr. Bartlett, entomologist, of Phoenix; Mr. Herschman, of Phoenix, on "Soils and Soil Bacteria"; T. P. Cruce, of the Santa Fe system; and a representative of the Bureau of Markets from Washington. The addresses will be not only of interest to the farmers but to the general public and every one is cordially invited.

LOWER OAK CREEK ENJOYING PROSPERITY

Dolph Willard, one of the oldest ranchers in point of service on Lower Oak Creek, was in Flagstaff this week from his ranch. Mr. Willard says that there never was a better prospect for all crops in that section of the country than there is this year, and that the range was never better. There is some perturbation relative to the working of the big Verde smelters which are running with only half the number needed. White men, he says, do not like the new regulations requiring a physical examination before being employed, consequently it is difficult to secure a full force, the companies having determined to use only white help if it is possible to secure enough of it.

NUMEROUS FOREST FIRES

The local forest office has fought to date this season about seventy-five fires, a number possibly a little above the average up to this time of the year. The aggregate loss resultant has not been as large as an equal number of blazes caused in other years. Only one fire of serious proportions has occurred, that happening on last Monday about eighty miles south of Flagstaff and a little south of Clear Creek. About 300 acres were reported as covered by the flames in a preliminary report rendered the department.

The local forest office is having difficulty in finding men suitable for the work.

It was rumored day before yesterday that the body of a Mexican had been found on the ranch of Campbell & Francis, having been dead apparently about ten days. According to the rumor no suspicion of foul play was entertained. No particulars could be learned and the story could not be verified. City and county officials had not been informed of the occurrence.

COCONINO COUNTY'S TAX ROLL LARGEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

Coconino county's tax roll for 1919 will total close to $21,000,000.00, according to the roll as it stands today, the result of work of the tax assessor's office since the first of the year. The total valuation of the county's assessable property, exclusive of the personal property list collected by the assessor, which consists of property not secured by real estate, and of the roll turned in by the state tax commission, consisting of the railroads, telephone and telegraph companies, etc., is about $985,000.00 more than it was last year, amounting to $11,640,588 as against $10,655,442.00 for 1918.

The state commission's roll of corporation property will probably amount to about $9,000,000.00, and the personal property roll collected by Mr. Dunn will run around $190,000.00. Which figures run the total to approximately $20,840,000.00.

The county tax assessor's roll is complete and has been passed on by the county supervisors acting as a board of equalization as required by law. The roll, in its three major divisions, consists of $1,822,309.00 in real estate; $1,486,620.00 in improvements; $8,332,459.00 in personal property. The increase in valuation from last year lies mainly in merchandise stocks, new homestead entries and final land certificates filed.

Assessor J. D. Dunn and his able force of deputies are to be congratulated on the efficient piece of work they did in compiling the roll.

Wm. Talioferro, land commissioner for the entire Santa Fe system, with headquarters in Topeka, Kans., was in Flagstaff recently, and remarked that in no county that he could remember had he seen a roll compiled that required so few changes as did this one. In fact, the changes made by the board were so few to be negligible.

In the week beginning Monday, July 21, there will be a state tax conference at the El Tovar Hotel, Grand Canyon, attended by all county tax assessors, as many of their deputies as can go, all county supervisors and the clerks of county boards. These persons will sit with the state tax commission as a board of equalization for the state. Assessor Dunn and Deputy Assessor Henry Aphold will go from the local office, with clerk of the county board, L. C. Riley, and as many of the supervisors as can get off.

MIGUEL HAS A BAD SESSION WITH JUDGE

Anselmo Miguel has again been before Police Judge Gilliland, this time on the charge of selling intoxicating liquor. Two of his countrymen testified against him. Julian Sanchez said he bought a pint of whiskey from Miguel, paying him $8.00 for it, and Francis Abayta testified he loaned Sanchez the money to buy the whiskey. After his arrest by Town Marshal Neill and Night Marshal Byron, Judge Gilliland fined him $200. Mr. Miguel appealed the case, but later reconsidered and offered to settle.

Wednesday he and his attorney and the town officials gathered and drew up an agreement which Miguel signed. Its principal points were: Miguel swore he had no liquor in his possession or under his control; that he would not in the future sell, give away or dispose of intoxicating liquor; that any officer of the law, at any reasonable hour, could search his premises without a search warrant or legal authority for same. He is also to give up his soft drink stand and lunch room and will not be allowed to run his dance hall.

On the condition that his appeal of the liquor selling case be withdrawn, he paid the city $100 of the fine and is to pay more Monday. He also wanted to withdraw appeal of a recent case, running a dance hall without a license, in which he was fined $200. He will be allowed to do this.

It is amusing what a printer can do to a fellow sometimes in the way of switching a line, and F. J. Lusk, the real estate man, is trying to explain to his friends that "he didn't say that" when they allude to his advertisement of last week; but if they want to buy or sell any old kind of really dirt, he can make things interesting for them.

County Attorney F. M. Gold spent Saturday in Williams on business for the county.

BOARD OF TRADE NOW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The regular monthly meeting of the Flagstaff Board of Trade was called to order by President Riley Tuesday evening, June 10 at 8 o'clock.

The secretary presented a quotation of $20.50 on a brass sign as authorized at meeting May 13, but stated that the sign had not been ordered in view of suggested change in the name of the organization. It seemed to be the opinion of the members present that the present name was unsuited to the times, and that "Chamber of Commerce" would be more fitting. It was accordingly moved by Mr. Herrington, seconded by Mr. Hash, and carried by unanimous vote that the name of this organization be changed to "Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce," and that a committee be appointed to draft the necessary change in the Constitution, Section 1. Messrs. Herrington, Brandon, and Slipper were appointed to serve on this committee.

The secretary reported that his letter addressed to the Badger Film Co., of Milwaukee, making inquiries as to Ray D. Clifton, had been returned undelivered. He reported also that Mr. C. B. Wilson, who with himself had been asked to investigate this gentleman. (Continued on Page 7)

JOURNEY FAR FOR WITNESS

Assistant County Attorney George Harben left for Los Angeles yesterday on No. 9, as a witness for Tommy Sano, of Williams, connected with the Saginaw-Manistee Lumber Co., who is applying for citizenship papers. The matter was carried to Los Angeles rather than wait until the next opportunity in Flagstaff courts, because under the law a discharged soldier must procure his papers within six months from time of discharge, and for Sano that time expires about the 1st of July, while the next court to which he could apply here will not meet until the 6th or 8th of August.

ELKS' SALVATION ARMY DRIVE A BIG SUCCESS

The local lodge of Elks in usual style not only made good in the drive to raise $1,000 for the Salvation Army Home Fund, but went the amount some $200 better and has forwarded to State Director Joe Prochaska a check for the amount. A gang of hustlers appointed by Exalted Ruler Jack Wilson, composed of Roger Morse, George Meyers, Dr. Tom Manning, of Flagstaff; William Lockridge and Emory Kolb, of Grand Canyon; Guy C. Riggs and E. Johnson, of Williams, went out after the money for the Salvation Army to use on the "home-coming" of our soldiers and sailors, and before the time limit was up were right there with the good, hard cash.

LOCAL W. U. NOT AFFECTED BY STRIKE

The local force of the Western Union telegraph office will not be affected by the telegraph and telephone strike called by officials of the operators' union for last Wednesday. Mrs. McPherson and Capt. E. M. Robinson were both emphatic in saying that as for themselves they would have no part in it. They are not members of the union, and stated that if they were they would not at this time answer any call to strike; loyalty to their company and to the country would prevent.

Captain Robinson said that although there might be some little grievances, and some causes for complaints, they did not justify any one in walking out while conditions in the United States were as they are today. The present condition in Russia, he said, was brought about by individuals thinking only of their own petty little affairs to the exclusion of the rights of others and the good of the whole, and that Bolshevism thrived where people thought only of their own so-called "rights." And the "captain" said he didn't much fancy the name of the head of the operators union, "Konenkamp." It reminded him too much of Snitzberger and Wilhelm the Koenig, and Tiptiz, etc.

After the result of the strike was known to officials of the company on Wednesday the local office received the following telegram: "The efforts of an irresponsible individual to impair the public service of the Western Union have again completely failed, due to your good sense and loyalty. A mere handful of our people deserted and these did so under a misapprehension. Think of it, only 166 out of over 40,000! Your conduct has been of such a high order of devotion to PUBLIC INTEREST that for myself and the company I thank you again with all my heart. "NEWCOMB CARLTON, "President."

MISS ADDIE E. MORSE PASSES AWAY SUNDAY

Not altogether unexpected, but none the less harder to bear by friends and loved ones was the death Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock, at the family home on North Beaver street, of Miss Addie Eliza Morse.

Miss Morse had been ill since the first of December, last year and in the six months since that time has borne untold suffering with a sweetness of spirit that all the more endeared her to those with her in her last illness. She was in Phoenix for a time, but as no change for the better was noted there she was brought back home. For two weeks she was in the Milton hospital, this city, but a week and a half before she died was taken back again to her home.

Miss Morse was born on March 30, 1878, in Birmingham, Conn. She and the family lived there and in the territory around Boston for the next eighteen years. She was a graduate of the Normal school at Worcester, Mass., and for several years following taught school in that city.

The family moved west 12 years ago and for some years Miss Morse was connected with the Forest Service office at Ogden, Utah. Seven years ago Roger Morse, now with the Citizens' Bank, preceded the family to Flagstaff, and the following year the rest moved to this city, making it their home since that date.

Miss Morse is survived by her mother, Mrs. F. A. Morse; a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Morse; another brother, Roger A. Morse, all of this city, and an uncle in Worcester, Mass.

Beautiful and impressive funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. Luther Moore. Later services were held in the cemetery south of town where interment took place, Rev. Moore officiating, assisted by the Rebekah Lodge, of which Miss Morse had been an able and appreciated member. The Flagstaff Undertaking Parlor were in charge of the services.

CROP PROGRESS IN ARIZONA

Dry weather has been favorable for alfalfa and wheat harvest which have gone forward successfully. All crops in irrigated areas have made good progress, particularly cotton, cantaloupes and watermelons. Low temperature early in the week hindered the normal growth of corn, beans, and potatoes in the north; but dry-land crops elsewhere in the state did well.

CITY COUNCIL TO PUT DOWN MORE STREET CROSSINGS

Councilman John Zalaha is now acting mayor, having been appointed to that place by the council at their meeting last Monday night. This action was necessitated by the absence of Mayor Slipper.

Mr. Albers, of the Flagstaff Steam Laundry, appeared before the council and protested against the license schedule as applied to laundries. As it stood the town assessed steam laundries $7.50 a quarter, and other laundries and agencies $2.50 a quarter. This, Mr. Albers thought, was making too big a difference between types of the business, and after some discussion the schedule was changed to read: "Steam laundries and agencies, $7.50 a quarter; all other laundries, $6.00 a quarter."

Fire Chief Jack Wilson recommended to the council the installation of a special fire alarm phone to the light plant, so that when Central turned in the alarm it would go both to the quarters of the truck driver and the engineer at the plant who could at once blow the whistle. This was acted upon favorably.

The clerk was instructed to make payment of $1,654.25 interest due to Keeler Bros., purchasers of the old bond issue.

The council passed an ordinance ordering in certain cement sidewalks previously recommended by the street and alley committee.

Town Engineer J. B. Wright was asked to prepare standard specifications for street and alley crossings and as soon as they are on file in the town hall bids will be asked for the construction of such crossings as have been recommended by the committee on that work.

A motion was unanimously carried that the town marshal be instructed to immediately revoke any soft drink license where its holder was detected in violating the prohibition law. It was also carried that every soft-drink license issued shall bear on its reverse side an agreement whereby any officer of the law will be allowed to search the premises or stock of the licensee at any time without showing a search warrant.

CAPTAIN JOHN GUTHRIE PUBLISHES FINE BOOK

"The Forest Ranger," is the title of an elegant little volume of poems collected and edited by Captain John D. Guthrie, formerly forest supervisor of the Coconino National Forest, and who is still on special duty with the army in Europe, of which we are pleased to acknowledge the receipt.

The book is replete with poems written by members of the forest service during the past fifteen years or more and is of special interest to that service, though very entertaining to any one who loves the wilds of woods and the mountain fastnesses. Writing of the work, Gifford Pinchot says:

"In collecting these verses, you have put me, with every other forest service man, deeply in your debt."

Captain Guthrie in the preface says: "The labor of collecting and editing has been one entirely of pleasure, and the little book is sent out with no literary aspirations whatever, but only with the desire to bring together and put on record these expressions of the spirit of the men who have heard the call of the forest and of distant places, and in the hope that they may bring back pleasant memories of many a forest camp or meeting. Perhaps they may be the forerunners of a collection of folk songs of American foresters and forest workers."

It is a worthy work and one for which Captain Guthrie is entitled to high praise.

INFANT DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. SISK DIES

Mary Ellen Sisk, little baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sisk, died last Saturday night after but two days of sickness and suffering. The baby was only two months and thirteen days old, and was the only child of the family. Funeral services were held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Father C. Vabre officiating at the Catholic cemetery, and also in the services at the cemetery. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Flagstaff Undertaking Parlor.

MORE RECRUITS FOR NAVY

Officers Duncan and McMahan, of the Navy Recruiting Station, are doing a rushing business these days. They recently sent off four new recruits—Luther G. Kelchner and Marion R. Kelchner, of Winslow; Roy Crane and Bob Smith, transients stopping in Flagstaff; and Robert R. Montano, of St. Johns, has applied and only awaits certain legal papers before acceptance. Messrs. Duncan and McMahan made a business trip to Williams Wednesday to make one examination and distribute some advertising matter.

"CYCLONE BILL" IN FLAGSTAFF

"Cyclone Bill" Beck, one of the pioneer residents of Arizona, was in Flagstaff yesterday, consulting his attorneys, Gold & Harben, relative to a personal damage suit against O. D. M. Flake of Holbrook, for injuries received on his stage line a couple of years ago. Beck is the official court interpreter for the federal court, and the superior court at Prescott, and withal, one of the noted characters that have made Arizona famous.
